Fostering just and efficient criminal justice systems

UNICRI MAJOR EVENTS SECURITY PROGRAMME

Launched in 2002 the International Permanent Observatory on Security during Major Events (IPO)

Endorsed by the United Nations Economic and Social Council (ECOSOC) Resolution 2006/28

Activities run parallel to UNICRI action as a member of the UN Counter Terrorism Implementation Task Force (CTITF)

Prioritises the regional dimension as a more effective approach

THE HOUSE – 24 EU Member States

IPO Americas – 30 OAS Member States

WHAT IS A MAJOR EVENT?

A MAJOR EVENT IS AN EVENT THAT REQUIRES INTERNATIONAL COOPERATION IN RESPECT OF ITS SECURITY PLANNING

sporting political cultural

other mass gatherings

WHY MAJOR EVENTS?

THE HOUSE SEES MAJOR EVENTS AS “WINDOWS OF OPPORTUNITY” FOR CHANGE

Occasions to develop national security strategies

Their scale and high visibility makes them vulnerable targets

This is accompanied by vastly increased investment in security amounts of resources to ensure that they are successful.

This offers the finance to create a lasting national security legacy

While the necessary collaboration with other states creates an environment of International cooperation among security planners

CTM PROVISION

HOW IT WORKS?

The Host assembles a focus group of End Users/Security Practitioners for the particular CTM

CTMs presented to End Users/Security Practitioners by CTM Owners in national workshops

Discussion takes place on the usefulness of CTMs as benchmarks for drafting security planning and for evaluating the drafting of security plans

Task teams report on the findings of the discussion with national End Users

On the basis of the compiled findings from all of the project workshops, guidelines for use of the CTMs are produced

EXPECTED OUTPUTS

Common taxonomy for Major Events security planning

Application of common evaluation standards to Major Events security planning

Application of common planning standards to European Major Events

Training activities on common security standards for Major Events in Europe

Contribution to the implementation of the Stockholm Programme

After the end of the project, a sustainable structure that can be accessed by all member states will exist
