The contract's objective is to enable registered users of the e-Net of CEPOL to access full-text content of relevant electronic journals and e-books through a single sign-on mechanism via the CEPOL extranet and their CEPOL-user credentials.

In order to keep the administrative workload for the provision of this service to CEPOL e-Net users as low as possible, a solution is required where the necessary authentication mechanism for accessing (reading, downloading, printing) of full-text articles or books, is delivered through an (external) authentication mechanism (OpenAthens, Shibboleth, etc). The offered solution needs to be technically fully compatible with the set-up of CEPOL's technical e-Net structure, which has been successfully run on an OpenAthens connection so far. CEPOL, via its e-Net authentication mechanism and in connection with the authentication link, will act as the identity provider in regard to eligible users allowed to make use of the specified e-journal and e-book subscriptions owned by the service provider.
