Introduction to CEPOL

CEPOL was initially founded by Council Decision 200/820/JHA of 22 December 2000 as a body financed directly by the Member States of the European Union and functioned as a network, by bringing together the national training institutes in the Member States, whose tasks include the training of senior police officers.

CEPOL was later established as an agency of the European Union by Council Regulation No. 2005/681/JHA of 20 September, 2005 (OJ L 256/63 of 1 October, 2005). CEPOL's main function is to support the training of senior police officers of the Member States by optimising cooperation between the national training institutes. CEPOL therefore shall support and develop a European approach to the main problems facing Member States in the fight against crime, crime prevention, and the maintenance of law and order and public security, in particular the cross-border dimension of those problems (Article 5 of Council Decision 2005/684/JHA).

CEPOL's primary objective is to increase knowledge of the national police systems and structures of other Member States and cross-border police cooperation within the European Union; to improve knowledge of international and Union instruments – in particular regarding the institutions of the European Union, Europol and Eurojust – and to provide appropriate training with regard to respect for democratic safeguards, with particular reference to the rights of defence (Article 6 of Council Decision 2005/681/JHA).

CEPOL is an equal opportunity employer and strongly encourages applications from all candidates who fulfil the eligibility and selection criteria without any distinction on the grounds of nationality, age, race, gender, political, philosophical or religious conviction or sexual orientation and regardless of disabilities, marital status or other family situation.
