It also contains applicable research projects, training, conferences, seminars, exchange programmes, e-library, forums (conventional and virtual) for sharing achievements and best practice. Police knowledge must have a source and this source cannot be elsewhere other than Police Science. Goal 3. External relations will be considered and dealt with as the corner stone of partnerships

■ CEPOL's efficiency and effectiveness will be determined not only by its own efforts but also by the quality of its cooperation with external partners. Partnership, equality, reliability, mutual interests and benefits are placed at the centre of cooperation. Looking at the circle of cooperation partners, different groups of countries, agencies, institutions and bodies can be listed. The aim is that CEPOL's external relations are tailored with different levels of flexibility for different groups of partners in a 'variable geometry'. The advantage of this model is that it recognises that certain groups have a different status quo, interests and concerns. All these manifest themselves in expectations which are outlined below.

Goal 4: CEPOL will be lead and managed as a top-ranking innovative EU agency

■ The constantly changing environment requires a flexible and appropriate response from CEPOL if the agency wants to ensure that its services meet with stakeholder and client expectations, which are altered by new needs. To be an evolving agency requires the capability to respond to challenging issues constructively. Increasing expectations are stimulating the leadership, management, process and organisational innovation of CEPOL. Managing these changes is not an easy task, but surely possible via professional leadership and management, so that at the end good governance will be the main feature of organisational performance.

It is foreseen that in 2014 the organisation will require an enhanced capacity in this area to meet the increasing operational requirements of the organisation and to ensure continuity of service for this important administrative function.

1 post will be allocated to the HR Management Unit - HR Assistant (AST3).

- The requirement for additional assistance in HR area is anticipated in 2014, this modest increase is foreseen to support the continued maturing and development of all aspects of the administration and management of staff deployed within CEPOL. In particular this need is linked to the approved strategic objective to implement competency management.
